

Kevin Kwasny Family settles lawsuit with Bishop's University

published 12/07/2017

An out-of-court settlement was reached between Bishop's University and its former student athlete Kevin Kwasny, on the day the case was supposed to go to trial. The settlement was made without any admission of liability, and the settlement terms are confidential.

Had the case proceeded to court, it would have been one of the largest personal injury lawsuits involving a Canadian university. The Kwasny family was represented by Robert and Stuart Kugler, and Jamie Kagan.

DISCLAIMER: This article is presented for informational purposes only. The content does not constitute legal advice or solicitation and does not create a solicitor-client relationship. The views expressed are solely the authors' and should not be attributed to any other party, including Thompson Dorfman Sweatman LLP (TDS), its affiliate companies or its clients. The authors make no guarantees regarding the accuracy or adequacy of the information contained herein or linked to via this article. The authors are not able to provide free legal advice. If you are seeking advice on specific matters, please contact Keith LaBossiere, CEO & Managing Partner at kdl@tdslaw.com, or 204.934.2587. Please be aware that any unsolicited information sent to the author(s) cannot be considered to be solicitor-client privileged.

While care is taken to ensure the accuracy for the purposes stated, before relying upon these articles, you should seek and be guided by legal advice based on your specific circumstances. We would be pleased to provide you with our assistance on any of the issues raised in these articles.