Doing Business in Canada: The Distinct Advantages of Manitoba Limited Partnerships with TDS lawyers Richard Yaffe and Leilani Kagan

published 05/30/2022

Join TDS lawyers, Richard Yaffe and Leilani Kagan, and Lex Mundi for an in-depth review of how limited partnerships (LPs) are taxed in Canada and how LPs may be used in real estate development, debt financing, estate freezes, and investment vehicles on a tax-effective basis. This webinar will additionally cover how the subtle differences in Manitoba's limited partnership laws can make it advantageous to choose Manitoba as the jurisdiction in which to create limited partnerships when structuring transactions.

Key takeaways will include:

- How LPs are taxed in Canada
- Taxation of Non-Resident LPs in Canada
- Tax-effective use of LPs in various types of business and investment structures
- How Manitoba limited partnership law provides increased flexibility for limited partners
- Ongoing reporting requirements for Manitoba limited partnerships
- Key differences between limited partnerships and corporations to keep in mind when drafting commercial agreements.
