

Black History Month

published 02/09/2021

During #BlackHistoryMonth, we are reaffirming TDS' commitment to improving the representation of the Black community in the legal profession. TDS is excited to be developing a mentorship program specifically focused on ensuring Black, Indigenous, People of Colour, and LGBTQ2S* students get support from, and access to, the wider legal community as they move through law school and enter the profession.

TDS is grateful for the guidance provided by the Black Law Students' Association of Manitoba, a chapter of the Black Law Students' Association of Canada, in developing this program.

We have also established the TDS Equity and Accountability Council that will lead and oversee the implementation and maintenance of firm policies and initiatives designed to create a culture that reflects the Core Values of TDS which includes an express commitment to diversity, inclusion, equity, and accountability. Black History Month is an opportunity for all of us to evaluate what steps we can take to support and celebrate the Black community, and to commit to enhancing equity, diversity, and inclusion all year long.

DISCLAIMER: This article is presented for informational purposes only. The content does not constitute legal advice or solicitation and does not create a solicitor client relationship. The views expressed are solely the authors' and should not be attributed to any other party, including Thompson Dorfman Sweatman LLP (TDS), its affiliate companies or its clients. The authors make no guarantees regarding the accuracy or adequacy of the information contained herein or linked to via this article. The authors are not able to provide free legal advice. If you are seeking advice on specific matters, please contact Keith LaBossiere, CEO & Managing Partner at kdl@tdslaw.com, or 204.934.2587. Please be aware that any unsolicited information sent to the author(s) cannot be considered to be solicitor-client privileged.

While care is taken to ensure the accuracy for the purposes stated, before relying upon these articles, you should seek and be guided by legal advice based on your specific circumstances. We would be pleased to provide you with our assistance on any of the issues raised in these articles.