Congratulations to Bob Adkins, John Stefaniuk, Sheryl Rosenberg and Sacha Paul on this recognition.

About Bob Adkins

Mr. Adkins has a varied practice, but for the last 30 years he has been significantly involved in areas of Indigenous law, natural resource development, including energy and rights-of-way for transmission lines and pipelines.

About John Stefaniuk

Mr. Stefaniuk engages in a broad practice in energy, mining, natural resources and environmental law, property and project development, and government relations. He has particular experience in resource development, permitting and licensing, power sales, wind farms, regulatory approvals, agreements with government, mineral tenure, Indigenous consultation, negotiation, closure and rehabilitation.

About Sheryl Rosenberg

Ms. Rosenberg practises primarily in the area of environmental law. She provides clients with advice concerning environmental approvals and licensing, mining and mine rehabilitation, natural resource development, regulatory compliance, contaminated sites and litigation of environmental matters. She has provided advice to Manitoba Hydro's Keeyask Generating Station and Hudson Bay's Lalor Mine.

About Sacha Paul

Mr. Paul practises primarily in the areas of Indigenous law and civil litigation with an emphasis on business development on Indigenous territory. He is a member of the Manitoba, Yukon, Nunavut and Northwest Territories Law Societies. He has taught at the University of Manitoba Law School in the past.
